Wellbeing support

As we all continue to live longer and lead far more active lives at older ages we are becoming increasingly aware of the impact that good seating and seating posture can have on our lives.

At Repose we value the important role that quality designed rise recliners, fitted to an individual's measurements, have on people's lives. Kate has offered a few pieces of advice that might help with your decision making.

Benefits of a rise recliner chair:

- Ergonomic sitting positions that support the head, neck, back, hips and knees in posture positive positions.
- Arm rests positioned correctly to allow the arms to relax without pushing up the shoulders or dragging the shoulders down.
- A range of restful positions, helping transfer weight and relieve pressure building in one place.
- Recline positions that lift the legs and feet and aid circulation and reduce fluid retention.
- Support to move about independently with a rise function that transfers the weight to the knees and takes pressure away from the hips, helping you to walk easily away from the chair.
- Comfortable and supportive positions for rest and to sleep for short periods.

Choice is about ensuring that you select the right combination of chair style, seat cushion, rise recliner mechanism and correct size of chair to ensure that you purchase a rise recliner that truly delivers personal comfort for you.

At Repose we specialise in bespoke rise recliners designed to your particular measurements. Your supplier will work with you in all of these key areas to ensure that you receive the right chair.

Three important measurements that your supplier will consider when fitting you for your rise recliner:

- Seat Depth - to ensure your thighs are well supported
- Seat Height - good posture requires your feet to be placed firmly on the ground
- Seat Width - the correct width will help to support your hips and arms.

In the correct chair, you should:

- be able to sit with your bottom at the back of the seat with your feet flat on the floor
- have your hips, knees and ankles supported in 90° angles
- have approximately an inch or 25mm between the back of your knees and the seat
- be able to sit in the seat with enough room to sit with your normal clothing on, to provide support, but not rub your legs
- be able to sit with your arms relaxed on the arm rests without pushing up or dragging down on your shoulders.

Please ask your supplier about the Repose posture and seating guide.
